About us

Our website address is: <http://rx2-series.com>. We are the official website for the RX2 International Series presented by Cooper Tires, an official support series to the FIA World Rallycross Championship.

What personal information do we collect and why do we collect it?

We are committed to respecting your privacy and undertake to manage, treat and protect your personal data and information in a responsible and secure manner, in line with current legislation and best practice. We comply with the principles of General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR), and all information and personal data voluntarily submitted and collected via newsletter sign-up or the website contact form will be held and used in accordance with GDPR.

The information you provide will be used solely to send communications as requested by you or to respond to enquiries you submit. We will not send any unsolicited communications or 'spam' emails. All newsletters contain an 'unsubscribe' link at the bottom should your information change or you decide you no longer wish to receive them, meaning you are able to 'opt out' at any time. You can also update any personal details via the contact form on this website.

We adhere to all appropriate security procedures in the collection and storage of your information, in order to guard against unauthorised access by third parties. However, we recognise that the transmission of data via the internet can never be 100% secure. Any data that you supply is at your own risk and – aside from our GDPR obligations, with which we fully comply – you acknowledge that we are not responsible for any unauthorised use, distribution, damage or destruction of your personal information.

GDPR guidelines additionally authorise you to request a copy of the personal data and information that we hold about you via the website contact form. We will endeavour to reply within one month. You may request that the data you supplied be immediately deleted at any time.

Cookies

In using the RX2 Series website, information may also be collected via cookies. By visiting the website, you agree to our collection and use of any personal data or information that you provide.

External links

When you use a link from our website to visit another website, our privacy policy no longer applies and you should refer to the privacy policy of the website(s) in question.

Transfer of ownership

Should ownership of the RX2 Series and its associated assets change at any point, your information may also be transferred. In using the website, you acknowledge that such transfers may occur and are permitted by the terms of this policy.
